BURIED 'NEATH A WILDERNESS OF FLOWERS

Three hundred people gathered at the grief stricken home of Busby P. Sweeney at No. 329 West Church street Monday afternoon to pay their last respects to Winona Busby Sweeney whose untimely death occurred last Saturday morning.

Very impressive services were conducted by Rev. George M. Rourke, pastor of the first Presbyterian church at three o'clock. Miss Carmen Blom rendered a vocal solo which was beautifully selected. She was accompanied by Miss Marguerite Krause.

Magnificent floral offerings filled the home. The sweet odor of the lily and the rose lent their perfume to the atmosphere.

The extreme popularity of the deceased was evidenced by the large representation of high school graduates of class 1909.

The pall bearers were, James Woods, Homer Waddell, Walter Guthrie, Oswald Wollenweber, Benjamin Ross, and John Krause. The honorary pall bearers were the girls who composed the sorority of which Winona Sweeney was a member. They were, Rhoda Munell, Edith Chase, Mrs. Vern Waddell, Florence Bland, Mary Dickason and Lydia Knapp.

Those who attended the funeral from out of town were, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Caldwell of Bucyrus; Mr. Edward Caldwell and daughter of Bloom Grove, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Mandas Mohr of Prospect; Mrs. Richard Harpster Mrs. Eliza Watkins of Prospect; Mr. George Tour of Cleveland; and Mrs. Nannie Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Green Camp.

COUNCIL GETS WHAT IS BADLY NEEDED

A sequel to the big conference of railroad officials with the city council last night, occurred Tuesday morning when a committee of four in company with the various railroad representatives, went over the town with a view to adding equipment which will protect the street crossings.

The committee which was appointed by President Earl Smart of council, was composed of Don E. J. Brockett, B. F. Waples, William Ulom and City Solicitor Elmer T. Boyd. T. M. Connors, superintendent of the Rocking Valley, C. A. Allen, superintendent of the Erie, and C. M. Costin, superintendent of the Big Four were present.

The men visited practically every railroad crossing in the city. The results of the tour was, that the city council will get practically everything it has asked for. An extra watchman will be placed at the north Greenwood crossing, an extra crossing watchman will be placed at Kenton avenue and the sidewalks leading across the tracks on Grand avenue and Sugar street will be repaired. Many other things of minor importance will be done.

The committee was greatly pleased over the courteous treatment of the visiting officials. "I didn't know that a superintendent of a corporation could be so fair," remarked one councilman after the session Tuesday morning.

Council will drop the four mile per hour speed ordinance and the old ordinance allowing a speed of sixteen miles per hour will prevail.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

W. J. REGISTERS HIS OBJECTIONS

Bryan Criticises Appointment of Hughes.

ADMITS HIS POPULARITY

Asserts That Reputation as Reformer Rests on Official Acts in Opposition to Grafting—Points to Veto of Two-Cent Fare Bill and Attitude on Income Tax as Proof of Theory That New York Justice is Friend of Big Corporations.

Lincoln, Neb., April 25.—President Taft's appointment of Governor Hughes to the supreme court bench is criticized by William J. Bryan, who issued the following statement:

"The appointment of Governor Hughes to the supreme bench will be regarded by many as a popular appointment. He has been put forward as a reformer, and seems to be considered one by a great many good people, but his reputation as a reformer rests upon a few official acts which show him opposed to grafting and to the individual vices, but no one who will examine his record can doubt that he is in close sympathy with the exploiting corporations. It will be remembered that he vetoed the bill for the reduction of railroad rates after a New York legislature, and a Republican legislature at that, had passed the bill. The measure gave to the congested population of New York the 2-cent rate now enjoyed by the more scattered populations of the western states, and his veto of it is conclusive proof that he obeys the dictates of the railway managers instead of listening to the voice of the public. He is understood to be a close personal friend of Rockefeller, and the published reports show that the trust magnates have contributed liberally to his campaign funds. He has not hesitated to show that he acknowledges his indebtedness. In 1908 he was the chief defender of the inaction of the Republican party on the trust question.

"It will be remembered also that he was the first prominent man to oppose the income tax, and his opposition had announced hostility to the income tax amendment. The corporation attorneys who filed an argument against the income tax with the Albany legislature presented the same argument that Governor Hughes did, and these corporation attorneys with Governor Hughes' powerful aid succeeded in preventing the ratification of the amendment by the state of New York. What would he do on the supreme bench if any question arose affecting the income tax? His speeches show that he feels no hostility toward private monopolies, and there is no reason to doubt that his decisions would be in line with his speeches.

"Governor Hughes exemplifies the individual virtues and naturally demands honesty in the public service, but he is a shining illustration of that peculiar type of citizen developed in this country during the present generation, the citizen who, personally pious, opposes vice and is a punisher of small crimes, but shows no indignation at the large forms of legalized robbery."

Our National Game.

"The raw American citizen," says Ellis Parker Butler in Success Magazine, "who takes his seat at a ball game for the first time feels as he would should he drop into the Metropolitan Opera House and find himself hearing Wagnerian opera from a seat in the midst of seasoned German opera goers. He hears a language that is new to him. The man at his right can tell more about the first baseman's peculiarities than he could tell about the manners of his own wife. The man at his left has trouble remembering the size collar he wears, but he can name every man in every club of both major leagues, tell the age of each, give the complete table of batting records offhand and recite, item by item, every feature of every game played on the home grounds during the last five years. That is why baseball is our national game. We love the game not because we are Chicagoans and the Chicago nine wins nor because we are Pittsburghers and the Pittsburgh nine is winning, but because we are educated in baseball and like to see a good game played by the best men in their field that can be found in the world."

"Going back to your office?" inquires the friend.

"I guess so," Brown reluctantly replies. "There doesn't seem to be much use in waiting any longer. I don't believe he is going to fall."

And he turned away with a lingering glance at the intrepid jack.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

STEEL WORKERS UNITE ON PLAN

Will Wage Bitter War Against Trust.

MAKE TIN PLATE FAMINE

Program Includes Shutting Down of Every Independent Plant in Country, Creating Shortage Which is Expected to Bring Business Interests to Their Aid—U. S. Corporation Raises Wages as Antidote For Proposed Union Methods.

Pittsburg, April 26.—Plans for carrying on war against the United States Steel corporation by the Amalgamated Association have been completed in Pittsburg, and will be put into effect on June 30 next, when the strike of tin plate workers is exactly one year old. The strike against the American Sheet and Tin Plate company has not been a success from the standpoint of union labor but it is arranged to adopt drastic measures. It is the purpose of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Plate Workers to close down every independent tin mill in the country when the present scale expires and keep them closed until there shall be created a great famine in tin plate.

The independent makers of tin plate make half the plate made in the country, and it is figured that if these mills, which are really owned by the Amalgamated, are all closed and the supply of plate becomes exhausted or almost so, there will be an outcry against conditions which may compel the corporation to take notice of the Amalgamated. It is figured that the independents, most of which signed the union scales, have through continued running made it possible for the rich corporation to keep up their fight, knowing that the trade would not suffer greatly so long as independents were supplying tin plate.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate company, or plate end of the corporation, has arranged for a flank movement which, it is figured, will make the independents think twice before shutting down their plants. This morning 40,000 tin and sheet workers in the mills of the corporation were notified by posters that their wages are increased beginning May 12.

SUPREME COURT VACANCY FILLED

Governor Hughes Gets Justice Brewer's Seat.

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED

Had Doubts as to Acceptance When Offer Was Made—Action Removes Notable Figure From New York Politics and Leaders See Opening For Roosevelt's Personality—New Justice Acquired First Fame as Gas Investigator.

Washington, April 26.—Charles E. Hughes, governor of New York state, has accepted President Taft's offer of an appointment to the supreme court bench, and his nomination is now before the senate. This means that Mr. Hughes will resign from the governorship and that Horace White of Syracuse will succeed him in the executive office at Albany.

This change, however, will not take place until the opening of the fall term of the supreme court early in October, when Governor Hughes will qualify as a member of the bench. There will consequently be only a little more than two months of White as governor of the Empire state.

The acceptance by Governor Hughes of the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Brewer means further that the governor's personality will be eliminated from the coming campaign in New York state and that the directing hand and hand of Theodore Roosevelt will be behind the Republican fight there next fall.

It can be said on high authority that Republican leaders in New York are counting on the active support of Colonel Roosevelt to whip the party organization into shape and to stand behind it in the coming campaign. There is good reason to say that assurances already have been received from the mighty hunter that he will lend a hand to the task.

There is talk here that Collector Loeb, Colonel Roosevelt's former secretary, may be drafted from the collectorship to run the campaign next fall and it is even intimated that Mr. Loeb may be pushed forward on his record as a housecleaner in the sugar frauds as a candidate for governor. Nobody here doubts now that Mr. Roosevelt will enter actively into the New York state campaign; that in fact he will dominate the entire fight.

The acceptance of Governor Hughes came as a surprise even to President Taft himself. The president made his offer to Governor Hughes by letter on April 22, and it took the governor only a little more than a day to make up his mind to accept the appointment.

The president had had Governor Hughes in mind for the supreme bench long before Justice Brewer died. When the president was in Albany, about the middle of March, he urged Governor Hughes to run for a third term for chief executive of New York state, and when the governor told him it was impossible, Mr. Taft suggested the possibility of an appointment to the supreme bench. At that time, however, Governor Hughes said that he did not feel that he could afford to accept such an appointment.

The president, at last Friday's cabinet meeting, discussed the appointment of a successor to Justice Brewer, and it was the unanimous opinion of the president's advisers that the appointment ought to be offered to Governor Hughes, and, on the remote possibility that he might change his mind, the president himself wrote to Mr. Hughes. It was plainly evident that the president was highly pleased when the governor's letter of acceptance was received. He at once prepared the nomination for immediate submission to the senate, and within an hour after he had received the letter of acceptance the nomination had been formally presented to the senate for confirmation.

POLITICAL RISE IS RAPID

Has Been in Game For Little Over Five Years.

New York, April 26.—The political life of Governor Hughes began only five years ago. Before that he was little known outside of his profession. In the five years that have elapsed since his appointment as counsel to the Stevens gas investigation committee he has made himself famous as an investigator and as a governor who had no use for political bosses.

Governor Hughes was 48 years old on April 11. He will be one of the youngest men ever elevated to the highest court of the nation. He was born in Glens Falls, N. Y., on April 11, 1862.
